

Written by

Tuesday, 01 March 2011 18:20

---

Radio Show Host Joshua-Paul Angell of his syndicated radio show "The Joshua-Paul Show" broadcast via The Excellence In Airwaves Network announced today that he invited Peter Catalano and Kim Harris of Sea Glass Essentials to be guests on his radio show.

Angell commented, "I'm very excited to have them on my show. I've asked my resident Psychic on the show, Tanya Gates to Co-Host with me because she herself is a jewelry designer and will undoubtedly have interesting questions from a designer's point of view. The really exciting thing is that because of recent syndication, we know that these two unique artists will be heard by our very large audience. And, the beauty as always is that if someone misses it live it will be archived and also be on iTunes as well as many other forms of media. People won't want to miss it live though. The guests were very generous and have offered a beautiful necklace and earring set for a contest. I've decided that the first caller wins the set." It should be noted that listeners can catch the show in iTunes even after it is live; as well as BlogTalkRadio.com/joshuaangell and this exact link:

<http://www.blogtalkradio.com/joshuaangell/2011/03/01/live-from-chicago-on-this-show> Sea Glass Essentials will also be placing a permanent player to their website at <http://www.seaglassessentials.com> to this specific show.

Sea Glass Essentials of Felton California is nature's answer to eco-friendly jewelry. Peter Catalano a lifelong entrepreneur began Sea Glass Essentials as a hobby originally under the name Sea Glass Santa Cruz, in 2006. Catalano says: "Each piece of sea glass that I have collected holds the promise of something new and beautiful. Peter met and fell in love with Kimberly Harris whom came to share his passion of sea glass jewelry. Kimberly began looking at his previous designs and wanted to share in designing sea glass jewelry; and a new sea glass collaboration was born (called) Sea Glass Essentials."

The joint venture resulted in a variety of collections featuring products for Weddings, Everyday and Something for Him. Sea Glass Essentials is eco-friendly jewelry; being a reclaimed by-product of the sea. Sea Glass Essentials collects by hand all their sea glass from beaches in the USA and the British Virgin Islands. Their products are hand crafted and made in the USA. Located just 6 miles from Santa Cruz California, Peter and Kim have a dedicated sea glass studio. The studio affords Peter the ability to bring the creative designs to life, by drilling each water etched piece of sea glass. The proprietary drilling process was developed Catalano.